ORDER

This revision application has been filed by Shri Srinivasan Muthuswamy (herein referred to as Applicant) against the order C. Cus I No. 192-193/2017 dated 13.12.2017 passed by the Commissioner of Customs (Appeals), Chennai.

2.Briefly stated the facts of the case are that the applicant, was bound for Kuala Lumpur and was intercepted at the Chennai Airport on 16.06.2017. Examination of his baggage and person resulted in the recovery of Rs. 2,00,000/-Indian currency (Rupees Two lakhs) kept on his person.

3. After due process of the law vide Order-In-Original No. 358/2017-18-AIRPORT dated 28.08.2017 the Original Adjudicating Authority ordered the release of Rs. 25,000/- and ordered absolute confiscation of the rest of the currency of Rs. 1,75,000/- under Section 113 (d) & (h) of the Customs Act,1962 read with Foreign Exchange Management (Export and Import of currency) Regulations, 2015 and imposed a penalty of Rs. 20,000/- under Section 114 of the Customs Act, 1962.

Aggrieved by the said order, the applicant filed appeal before the 4. Commissioner (Appeals) who vide Order-In-Appeal C. Cus I No. 192-193/2017 dated 13.12.2017 set aside the absolute confiscation of the currency allowed redemption of the currency on payment of Rs. 40,000/- as redemption fine and partially allowed the appeal of the Applicant.

5. Aggrieved with the above order the Applicant has filed this revision application interalia on the grounds that;

5.1the order of the Commissioner (Appeals) is against law, weight of evidence and circumstances and probabilities of the case; that in a reported judgement 2012 (276) ELT 129 (GOI) in the case of Chellani Mukesh the Hon'ble Revisionary Authority had set aside absolute confiscation and allowed redemption of the of the same under section 125 of the Customs Act,1962; Currency is a restricted item and not prohibited; The Adjudication authority has not exercised his option under section 125 of the Customs Act, 1962; Even assuming without admitting the act of the Applicant is only a violation of the Reserve Bank rules; There is no ntumacious conduct on part of the Applicant but a conduct of a person b is ignorant of the law; The currency was recovered from his hand Page 2 of 4 baggage and it was not indigenously concealed ; the Apex court in the case of Hargovind Das vs Collector Of Customs 1992 (61) ELT 172 (SC) and several other cases has pronounced that the quasi judicial authorities should use the discretionary powers in a judicious and not an arbitrary manner and option to allow redemption is mandatory; The Applicant further in the case of Keetheswari 373/46/B/11 04.05.2012 the hon'ble Revisional Authority has stated absolute confiscation is very harsh and granted the option to redeem the confiscated currency.

5.2 The Revision Applicant cited various other assorted judgments and boards policies in support of his case and prayed for quashing the impugned order in Appeal with consequential benefits by means of reduced redemption fine and reduced personal penalty and thus render justice.

6. A personal hearing in the case was held on 25.09.2018, the Advocate for the respondent Shri S. Palanikumar attended the hearing he re-iterated the submissions filed in Revision Application and pleaded for release of the currency on reduced redemption fine and penalty. Nobody from the department attended the personal hearing.

7. The Government has gone through the case records it is observed that the Applicant had kept the currency in his hand baggage and did not declare the same and therefore confiscation of the same is justified. However, the facts of the case state that the Applicant has not been involved in such offences earlier. The currency was not indigenously concealed. Further, There are a catena of judgments which align with the view that the discretionary powers vested with the lower authorities under section 125(1) of the Customs Act, 1962 have to be exercised. Government notes that the Appellate Authority has rightly exercised his discretion of allowing the currency on payment of redemption fine giving relief to the Applicant.

9. Government observes that the facts of the case justify the quantum of redemption fine and penalty imposed, and notes that the redemption fine and penalty imposed is appropriate and therefore is disinclined to interfere with the order of the Commissioner (Appeals). The revision Application is therefore held liable to be dismissed.
